City to Acquire Pepco Substation, Authorizes Study of Lake Problems

by Mavis Fletcher

The Greenbelt city council at its regular meeting on March 23 took the last step toward acquiring the land formerly occupied by the old PEPCO substation on Crescent Rd. This action will transfer into city ownership the last privately owned piece of the wooded area between Crescent Road and the lake park from Kenilworth Avenue to St. Hugh's. With no dissenting vote, council passed an ordinance to appropriate $48,000 to pay for the land, pending receipt of Program Open Space funds which will cover the purchase price.

While the city was gaining about 7 acres of park land in the PEPCO substation property, it was agreeing to transfer 1.91 acres of another parcel to METRO for use as a METRO access road and road embankment. This small triangle of land functions as a buffer between Cherrywood Lane and the Beltway. The land given to the city by the federal government, cannot be disposed of by the city directly. Council, acting on the recommendation of its Advisory Planning Board, agreed unanimously to give the land back to the federal government for further transfer to METRO.

APB had also recommended that the city seek this opportunity to review and comment on the landscaping of the tract. Mayor pro tem Thomas X. White went one step further, however, saying he would be more comfortable with a stated agreement that the city would have some approval authority for the landscaping in return for giving up almost two acres of land. Council member Antoinette Bram improved on this suggestion by proposing that the city have some approval authority regarding landscaping of all METRO facilities within the city. On a motion by White, the entire council voted to ask for an opportunity to review and approve all METRO landscaping in the city, with the stipulation that the approval would not be unreasonably withheld.

County Storm Drains

The Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission has proposed legislation which would transfer to the county the storm drainage function the WSSC now exercises. According to City Manager James K. Giese's report to council, the revenue sources (an ad valorem tax on real and personal property) to pay for storm drains would be unchanged except that they would accrue to the county instead of to WSSC.

The city staff recommended the city's support of the legislation. Giese said that WSSC does not monitor storm drains in old Greenbelt in any case and that this change in the law would not have any real impact on the city. The council adopted a motion by Councilmember Joseph Isaacs to support the legislation. The motion was passed unanimously.

Lots of Petitions

Council received five petitions at the meeting and, in accordance with its usual practice, postponed action until the next council meeting on most of them. However, because of an impending exam date, council acted on a petition by city police Sgt. Daniel P. O'Neil for an exemption from the educational requirement for the position of police lieutenant so that he would be allowed to take the examination and compete for the vacancy. According to Giese, the requirements for this position were upgraded about two years ago to require a two-year college degree. O'Neil is actively pursuing a degree in police technology but has not yet completed the degree.

Giese, who had at first ruled against any exemption from the rule, said that he could support a modification which would allow a gradual phase-in of the educational requirement over a five-year period at the rate of 12 semester hours per year. Police Chief James R. Craze, who had drafted the stiffer requirements two years ago, said he had originally taken no position on the request because he was reluctant to see any lowering of standards in the city police department. However, he indicated that he could support the phase-in proposal.

Council apparently impressed by the fact that O'Neil is currently performing the duties of police lieutenant on an acting basis, agreed to the suggested phase-in period. Councilmember See COUNCIL, page 6, col. 1

Library Book Store Is One Year Old

by Eileen Peterson

Since birthday parties are apt to be noisy, the Novel Endings Bookstore in the Greenbelt Library celebrated its first birthday last month by quietly going about the business of adding new books to its shelves.

One of five in the County Library System, the local bookstore sells books (library discards and donations), magazines, records, tapes, jigsaw puzzles and T-shirts. Shelves in the small room in the lower level of the building are divided into fiction, non-fiction, paperback and children's categories. Magazines range from "Soviet Life" to "Ceramics" to "Ellery Queen." Science fiction paperbacks are given a special section.

Friends of the Greenbelt Library manages the store, the only one in the county organized by a Friends group. Library volunteers and FOGL members staff the bookstore. The T-shirts reflect the Friends of the Library theme. Because of Greenbelt's 50th Anniversary, the bookstore has agreed to stock city postcards and calendars.

Children and Teens

Even though a large number of children's books are placed in the store from the library collection, donations for young children and teen-age readers are needed. Records and tapes are especially in demand. Donations to the library are considered for the regular collection upstairs before being given to the bookstore.

Monies

Earnings from the sale of library discards go into the county system and a portion is sent back to this branch. Earnings from donated books go to Friends of the Library projects such as a tape deck and earphones now being used by patrons who want to listen to music in the library, to substantial additions to the paperback collections, and for such programs as the recent children's Storybook Theater performance.

Book Sales

Where do you put all the donated books? This is the first question from patrons eyeing the small room that used to serve as a telephone switchboard room. Twice a year, the library holds book sales as part of a county-wide schedule. The bookstore clears out its shelves for this event and puts onto sale tables the literally hundreds of books it hasn't been able to fit into its room. After the sale, volunteers restock the bookstore shelves. The next sale is scheduled for Saturday, May 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Volunteers

Helping in the Novel Endings bookstore or at book sales is not limited to Friends of the Greenbelt Library members. Anyone interested can call the library or Barbara Simon at 474-2192. The bookstore has expanded its Saturday hours (11 a.m. to 3 p.m.) and is open Monday evening (7 to 9 p.m.) and Tuesday through Thursday from 1 to 4 p.m.

BARC Tract Auction Delayed After Hoyer's Intervention

by Elaine Skolnik

The 13-acre Parcel 5 tract of the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC) will not, after all, be on the auction block May 27 as scheduled. This decision was made after Congressman Steny Hoyer, a long-time foe of disposing of BARC land, discussed the matter with federal officials of the General Services Administration (GSA).

In a letter dated March 24 to Hoyer, Paul K. Trause of GSA agreed that the agency "will not take any action to dispose of the property at the Agricultural Research Station in Prince Georges County for 90 days in light of the potential federal needs you have identified." Located north of the National Agricultural Library, Parcel 5 is bounded by U.S. Route 1, Sunnyside Avenue and Buchanan Road.

According to John Berry, Hoyer's legislative aide, the potential federal needs include the "consolidation of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's offices, which are scattered throughout the Maryland, Virginia and Washington D.C. area." This use of Parcel 5 would be compatible with the existing facility he noted and "leasing costs would be saved."

The BARC Master Plan adopted by the National Capital Planning Commission (NCPC) in 1983 recommended use of Parcel 5 for future office facilities and grass research. But BARC officials had advised the NCPC that "the property (was) no longer critical to its mission in agricultural research and that it (was) unrealistic to expect any future office development on the site" since there was no funding for the latter purpose. They also said the turf program could be accommodated elsewhere on the 7,200-acre installation.

The question as to whether GSA followed all required procedures after declaring Parcel 5 surplus on January 14, 1983 will also be explored during the 90-day period. According to a spokesperson in GSA's Atlanta office, disposal of the tract was placed on hold in August 1983 pending Congressional review. Then, he said, on January 21, 1985 GSA proceeded with disposal plans which included (1) offering the property to federal agencies and state and local governments at fair market value and (2) notifying the State clearinghouse (under the State Planning Agen-

The GSA spokesperson said the state agency had recommended a "100% discount conveyance for public purposes." However, he noted, GSA is not required to abide by the recommendation.

Apparently GSA's decision to place Parcel 5 on the auction block followed an unsuccessful attempt by the University of Maryland to locate an Agricultural Biotechnology Center on about 9.6 acres of the tract. The U.S. Department of Education had denied the University's application which, if granted, would have resulted in the University's receiving the land at no cost.

University officials then entered into negotiations with GSA to purchase the land. However, they felt the appraised fair market price was too high. (Reportedly, it was about $7.5 million but GSA does not release its appraisal figures.)

Dr. Paul Mazzocchi, Acting Director of the Maryland Biotechnology Institute, said: "The University does not have that kind of money . . . The Agricultural Biotechnology Center, if not in Beltsville, will be located on the College Park campus, where the University has lots of land."

Meeting

At a meeting in Annapolis on March 26, Berry reported on GSA's agreement to (1) postpone the sale of Parcel 5 for 90 days and (2) to allow additional delays based on the continued interest of a public agency in utilizing

Definite Plan Needed

Will the renovation of North End School once again be forgotten? In 1984 the city was committed to transforming the school into a community building; despite numerous studies and surveys, the City Council has yet to decide on a definite plan.

The Citizens for North End Center (CNEC) have developed an imaginative proposal and presented it to the City Council and the Community Relations Advisory Board (CRAB). The Center's programs would appeal to a broad cross-section: CNEC's plan includes centers for child day-care, senior day-care, senior drop-in, recreation programs, a photography lab, art classroom, studios for pottery and other artists and craftspeople. The majority of these are rent-producing... which allow the Center to be largely self-supporting.

Why not somewhere else? No existing or planned building lends itself to this combination of uses as well as North End School. CNEC's door-to-door survey of 184 North End residents showed overwhelming support for reviving the school as a multi-purpose center accessible to all ages by inner-walkways, car and bus service.

It appears to CNEC that major hurdles to the creation of the North End Center are the City Council's approval of a renovation plan and timetable and finding of funds. Some monies were specifically set aside by the City for North End School renovation. City staff needs to actively seek private, county, state and federal grants available for such works. Agencies will respond to a city that is whole-heartedly committed to such a cause.

Renovation will cost money, but so does delay — in further deterioration and vandalism, in lost programs and lost opportunities.

Handicapped Parking

Recently network TV news did a segment on "Handicapped Parking" which struck me as an example we in Greenbelt might follow. The segment showed a unique approach in dealing with handicapped parking violators.

Actual handicapped volunteers (persons in wheelchairs, crutches, braces, etc.) were recruited, without pay, by the local police to be the ones to oversee handicapped parking areas in shopping center lots, etc. These individuals were supplied with a uniform and badge and empowered to write tickets on vehicles clearly violating handicapped parking spaces.

The visible presence of an actually handicapped individual ticketing the vehicle of a non-handicapped individual definitely has a deterrent effect. The handicapped individuals felt they were actively contributing to their community, providing assistance to the local police and helping to emphasize the need to keep handicapped parking for the handicapped.

I applaud those communities who have implemented this procedure and suggest our Greenbelt officials consider doing the same.

Pool Not that Costly

This is in response to a letter by Leonie Penny in the News Review on March 19 on the subject of the proposed swimming pool.

While there may be a legitimate difference of opinion as to the need for a new pool, the electorate of Greenbelt expressed its desire for the city's capital investment in the construction of such a pool. However, the arguments that Mrs. Penny expresses opposing the construction of a pool today are not valid.

Mrs. Penny states that she was a strong advocate of an indoor swimming pool in 1972 which would have cost $400,000, but that the $2,000,000 plus cost today is too expensive. Mrs. Penny has failed to allow for inflation since 1972.

The U.S. cost price index shows that $600,000 in 1972 is equivalent to $1,615,200 in 1987. Not much different from $2,000,000. Also, as a ratio of cost of pool to city budget the pool in 1972 would have represented a higher expenditure relative to the city budget than the estimated cost today of $2,000,000 relative to today's city budget.

In summary, if the pool was a good idea for Mrs. Penny in 1972 when her needs required such a pool, then it must be just as good an idea in 1987 to meet the needs of other citizens even though Mrs. Penny no longer has such needs. Also, the area swimming facilities mentioned in Mrs. Penny's letter were, for the most part, in existence in 1972.

As I see it, the pool is as good a buy in 1987 as it was in 1972. Assuming that the need exists, I favor renovation of the outdoor pool as the first priority and construction of the indoor pool as the next priority.

Cash and Compliments

Enclosed please find a check for $20 just about the sum of $1 per year of reading the newspaper. I have enjoyed it since my first days in Springhill Lake and now Greenbriar, but have never given any funds toward its support. I am finally getting around to it.

I want to thank you for keeping me up with the life of Greenbelt and its people. I think you do an excellent job of informing me about the city around me, and making me aware of the offerings of our city. I am proud to live in Greenbelt, both because of our heritage, and because I think concerned citizens have given themselves to our city life. Thanks to all of them as well.

I hope someone does some historical research on women in sport in Greenbelt since the beginning of the town in 1937. I may even attempt such work myself as I am very interested in women in sport. I suppose if there is anything about Greenbelt that concerns me, it is all the boys teams on your field, and the few girls and women, and even more the lack of coed teams in sports. This needs more concern and work.

Congratulations to Donna and to all the 50 nurses to be.

Larry and Alverta Shanahan of Westway celebrated St. Patrick's Day in Greenbelt for the 33d year, and to make it doubly festive, son Patrick celebrated his birthday on the same day. GHI Board Ponders Fate of Boiler Rooms; Votes to Exit Co-op Group

by Mavis Fletcher

The board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) decided at its March 26 meeting to drop its membership in the National Association of Housing Cooperatives. The board discussed the issue for some time before making its decision and when the vote came it was a 5-3 split decision in favor of not renewing the cooperative's membership.

The board examined at some length the benefits of continuing membership in the association. The issues raised were whether NAHC has any positive impact on national legislation of importance to cooperatives, whether GHI obtains any information from NAHC which is not being provided by other organizations and whether its conferences provide useful educational values to board members.

The board's decision seemed to be based on a fundamental split in philosophy about cooperatives. According to President Margaret Hogensen, NAHC once tried to expel GHI on the grounds that market equity cooperatives (that is, cooperatives in which members are allowed to realize a profit on the sales of their units) are not really co-ops at all. NAHC, she said, has long been dominated by representatives from large limited equity cooperatives (primarily from New York City) where the member, on sale of the unit, gets back only what he has paid for the unit.

Although critical of NAHC, Hogensen, who recently resigned from the board of that organization and was replaced by Director Ray McCawley, argued that, on balance, GHI should continue its membership. McCawley supported continued membership because he believes, that GHI should participate fully in the national cooperative movement. He advocated GHI's getting in there and changing things which need to be changed. Director Wayne Williams said he had been hearing about NAHC changing for ten years and was not sure it ever would.

When the vote came, only Directors Nancy Hutchins, McCawley, and Williams voted to continue in NNAHC. Director Andrea Haslinger, who had attended a NAHC conference where, she said, there were lots of cliques and lots of time spent in getting certain cliques elected, joined Directors Mac Wirick, Debbie Hartwick, Chuck Hess and Janet Cantwell in voting to drop the membership.

Attached Boiler Rooms

The board voted to present another plan for use of some of the small boiler rooms attached to the frame homes to the membership at the upcoming annual meeting. The membership has previously approved selling these rooms to the owner of the unit adjacent to the boiler room; it has also approved turning them into efficiency apartments. Neither of these uses has been very successful. Only two of the boiler rooms have been sold to adjacent members, according to General Manager Ron Colton, and the apartment idea has not actually been tried because of potential zoning problems.

At the March 26 meeting, Colton presented a plan for converting at least some of them into storage rooms for the members. He presented drawings of the boiler room at 44 Court of Ridge Road as it might be converted to storage spaces. This room is the smallest of the boiler rooms, he noted, and GHI has had no inquiries about purchasing it.

The board discussed various options, including the idea of demolishing these rooms. On a unanimous vote, it decided to put the storage room idea before the membership at the annual meeting. McCawley suggested discussing the idea with the members in 44 Court of Ridge to find out how much interest there would be in renting storage rooms.

50th Anniversary Events

The board granted permission for a hiking group called the Freestate Happy Wanderers to conduct a 'Volksmarsch' using some of the inner walkways on September 5 and 6 as part of the 50th Anniversary activities. The group will need to post directional signs along the walkways.

The board also reviewed a long list of events to be held in celebration of the anniversary. Hogensen appointed Williams and Haslinger to check out plans for honoring Greenbelt pioneers and find out if there is a role GHI can play in these efforts.

Boiler Room Lots

The staff presented a slide show of the sites where three of the large boiler plants stood before they were demolished. The board had asked for plans for using these sites for additional parking and, at the same time, for improving their appearance by landscaping and lighting. Colton, in his report to the board, noted that much of the cost on most of the lots would be for lighting and landscaping. The board took no action but did indicate that the site near 10 Court of Laurel Hill, where the land slopes considerably, might not be suitable for parking and should be used for some other purposes. The board, by consensus, indicated that the staff should pursue plans for making additional parking in the Plateau Place and 1 Court of Laurel Hill sites.

GDC

At a meeting of the board sitting as the board of directors of Greenbelt Development Corporation on the same evening, Comptroller Don McGinn presented the Comparative Operating statement for the years 1984-1986. The statement showed that the corporation showed a net surplus of a little more than $4000 in 1985 after payment of taxes and an $8000 dividend to GHI (the only stockholder in GDC).

The board also discussed the replacement of the metal casement windows in the GDC apartments. The windows have, at 50 years, reached their life expectancy, Colton said. He estimated that the per apartment cost of replacing all the windows in the apartment project at once would be less than half the cost of doing them on a piecemeal basis. Therefore, he recommended to the board that the windows be replaced in all 60 apartments at an estimated cost of $60,000.

Colton told the board that the loan could be placed with any one of several sources of money. However, he recommended that the money be borrowed from GHI in order to avoid interest payments to an outside lender.

The board, after considerable discussion of various methods of financing the project, authorized the window replacement and agree to place the question of GHI's acting as lender to GDC on the agenda of the GHI membership meeting in May.

Council Votes to Renovate Outdoor Pool

Edward Putens took the opportunity to reiterate what he described as his longstanding position that job descriptions ought to specify educational requirements in terms of both college degrees and "college-level understanding" of the job. The council, on a motion by White, voted to instruct the staff to draft the job description with the modified educational requirements.

The remaining petitions were accepted and will be acted on at a later meeting. Mary Lou Williamson, representing the Book Subcommittee of the 50th Anniversary Committee appeared before council to ask for an interest-free loan from the city in order to assure publication of a book giving the history of Greenbelt in pictures and text. The loan would be repaid from the book proceeds.

David Lychenheim of the board of the Windsor Green Homeowners Association asked the council to intercede with the developer of the Greenbrook subdivision to put a stop to excessive noise from the construction site, violation of the 10 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew on construction and speeding construction vehicles. The request was referred to the staff with instructions to bring the issue back to council, if necessary, after the staff has contacted the developer.

Council also accepted petitions from North Ridge homeowners (for the construction of a storm drain, with the cost to be assessed against their properties) and from Anthony Pisano of Greenhill Road, who asked the council to instruct the Community Relations Advisory Board to make public the results of a survey taken in December; the survey concerned public opinions on the renovation of the North End School.

Outdoor Pool Renovation

In a split vote, council decided to proceed with design planning for renovation of the outdoor pool. Over the objections of Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and White, the other council members voted to contract for the first steps in the renovation with an aim at getting the work started after Labor Day and completed before the 1988 swim season.

Weidenfeld and White both felt that the cost of the whole project (an estimated $375,000) was too big to undertake without full debate and more public input. The majority of council, however, were more intent on getting the project underway in a time frame which could allow completion before another swim season intervened; delay could force council to choose between the alternatives of postponing the project for a full year or losing part of the 1988 swim season.

On a 3-2 vote Isaacs, Bram and Putens voted to proceed with design plans; Weidenfeld and White voted against the motion. Council also set a worksession on the indoor and outdoor pools for April 9.

A Long Look at the Lake

Giese informed council that an $82,500 grant from the state Water Management Administration has been approved for sediment control work on the streams feeding Greenbelt Lake from Lakewood and Braden Field. Giese pointed out that the grant addresses only a small part of the problem of Greenbelt Lake, which he enumerated as water seepage, excessive algae growth, siltation and a badly corroded drain pipe under the dam that is used to drain the lake.

Giese proposed employing an engineering firm to make a comprehensive study and develop a work program for the entire lake area. He proposed to use bond issue funds for this purpose to the extent that the cost exceeds the grant. Council voted unanimously to authorize the study. Werner Neupert of Lakeside Dr. voiced an objection to the proposed use of bond issue funds to pay for this work, he suggested that it be put in the regular budget.

Other Actions

Council took action to accept a proposal from the firm of Gilford & Chase for engineering services in designing Ora Glen Drive. Under agreement with the developer, the city will have the design work done and the cost will be assessed to the Smith-Ewing Subdivision Lot 3.

Council noted the proposed sale of 13+ acres (Parcel 5) of land along Route 1 adjacent to the National Agricultural Library. Council took no action but Weidenfeld said that council's position in opposing the sale of any part of the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center is well known. A member of the staff was to attend a hearing on the sale in Annapolis on March 25.

Without discussion, council agreed to support the National League of Cities in its effort to achieve reauthorization and funding of the federal Community Development Block Grant program.

Council also approved an agreement with Commerce Center builder Robert K. Rubin regarding conditions placed on the Center's sign plan by the council. Rubin accepted the conditions which had been suggested in an APB report and adopted by council. The Commerce Center is located at Hanover Parkway and Greenbelt Road on Smith-Ewing lot 1.

Council also passed for first reading an ordinance increasing the admissions and amusement tax on any roof garden, cabaret, or place where there is a performance. When the increase is in effect, the tax will increase from four to five percent.

APB Reports

Council received an APB report on a special exception request for a proposed photography studio at 100 Rosewood Drive in Boxwood. It was noted that the Zoning Hearing Examiner will hear this proposal on April 15.

Other APB reports dealt with a sign request by the First American Bank in the Oxford Building on the Golden Triangle, a sign request for temporary real estate signs next to the model home in Greenbrook development, and the site and landscape plans for development of the Robert Douglas property located on the south side of Greenbelt Road, west of Cipriano Road near the Brittany Place Apartments, just east of the city limits. Review of these plans by the city was a condition of rezoning placed on the property by the county District Council.

The APB also reported on a bill co-sponsored in the Prince Georges County Council by Councilmember Richard Castaldi that would delay processing of zoning applications in an area undergoing review of a master plan.

Meetings

Due to various holidays, council set its regular meetings this month for April 6 and 27. Meetings in May will be on Monday, May 11 and Tuesday, May 26.

Super Soccer Starts Sunday

by Nancy Boardman

Greenbelt youth soccer will enter an exciting new phase this Sunday at 2 p.m. on the Greenbelt Middle School soccer field. The new Greenbelt NCSL team of players born in 1976 and under will face off against the Blue Thunder team from the Mid-County Athletic Association in the first weekend of play this season. The National Capital Soccer League is the premiere youth soccer league in the Washington metro area with 6,500 players age 8 to 18 and nearly 400 teams from Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

We are proud that this group of Greenbelt players (and their families who encourage and support them) have the determination, ability, and love of soccer to enter NCSL and bring this top league and Greenbelt together for the first time! An invitation goes to all Greenbelters to come and see the team play and support them along this challenging road. Being a new team they will play in the third division of the league for the spring season. At this point the coaching team is most involved with the development of solid soccer skills and a better understanding of game strategy. Of course they are looking for wins too, but the developmental work comes first and a winning record will be built later.

Community support for the team has been heartening. The Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club is cooperating with fields and necessary supplies. Their help is greatly appreciated. Also the team was pleased to receive sponsorship with financial support from Springhill Lake last week. Games and practices are held at the Middle School right next door and the team hopes to attract residents to their games on Sunday afternoons. Thank you Springhill Lake!!

The following is the roster of the enthusiastic players: "J.J." Trimble, Peter Timer, Michael Ring, Miguel Pereira, Kevin Lynch, Corey Lee, Ashish Khat-ta, Greg Hunanian, Jason Harbin, Daniel Gomez, Jason Everhart, Etim Edim, and Tommy Bradley. NCSL - Here we come!

NOTICE

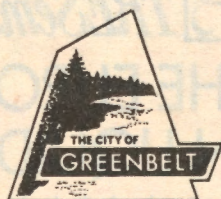

INCREASE IN ADMISSIONS AND AMUSEMENT TAX

An ordinance has been introduced before the City Council of Greenbelt to increase the admissions and amusements tax from 4% to 5% on businesses operating night clubs, cabarets, and other taxable entertainment in conjunction with the serving of food or beverages. The ordinance, if enacted, will become effective July 1, 1987.

The ordinance will be considered for second reading and final passage at the City Council's regular meeting of April 6, 1987. The meeting will begin at 8:00 p.m. and will be held in the Council Room, second floor, of the Greenbelt Municipal Building, 25 Crescent Road, as an early item of business. At that meeting, the City Council may enact the ordinance, reject it, amend it, or defer action on it.

Persons who may wish to speak on this matter will be given an opportunity to do so. Council rules limit presentations and testimony of individuals to three minutes and of organizations and associations to five minutes.

Dottie Brown --- An Outstanding Educator

by Eileen Peterson

Dorothy Brown, Maplewood Court resident and a teacher at Rogers Heights Elementary School in Bladensburg, is one of 16 persons chosen from among 80 nominees as an Outstanding Educator in the Prince Georges County School System (PGCSS) for 1986-87.

The 16 finalists will be honored at the PGCSS Employees Recognition Banquet on May 20 at Martin's Crosswinds (The dinner is open to the public. For information, call Dolly Stewart, 952-6064.)

A veteran of 17 years of teaching in the county, the Winston-Salem, N.C., native now teaches a 5th-6th grade combination. She has taught all grades from kindergarten to 12th grade.

"I knew in the third grade that I wanted to teach. It's very gratifying to have others say the job has been well done," reflected "Dottie" as she described the award.

Nominations are made by fellow workers, students and community associates. In addition to her school career, Dottie is an Elder at the Berwyn Presbyterian Church, vice-president of the Greenbelt Middle School PTSA, and on the board of the Lakeside Citizens' Association. She has held numerous PTA positions, and once served as County Council representative for the PTAs of all three schools where her daughters attended. She has directed Day Camps for the YMCA, taught swimming, been active in Girl Scouts at all levels and is a member of Alpha Delta Kappa, the honorary service sorority for educators.

In November 1984 the Brown family moved from Bladensburg to Greenbelt. Benjamin is a consultant in computer security who often substitutes in the county school system as his "community service" work. Daughter Carmen, 22, recently graduated from the University of Maryland with a degree in Interior Design. Kendra, 19, is at Prince Georges Community College and plans to major in elementary education at Frostburg State next Fall. Zandra, 13, is at Greenbelt Middle School and will enter the Science and Technology Center at Eleanor Roosevelt High School in September.

WSSC Issues Warning

The Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (WSSC) has issued a community warning that there may be people posing as WSSC employees who want to gain entrance into your home within its bi-county service area of Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties. Residents are urged not to allow entrance to anyone until proper employee identification has been shown.

Every WSSC employee carries an official identification card with his/her picture and name on it.

The only regular WSSC at-home contacts should be the meter readers. These Custom Service Representatives, who read the water meter quarterly, wear navy blue uniforms with the WSSC insignia clearly visible on it.

Anyone may call 699-4258 or 699-4555 to verify an employee's identity.

Recently the City of Greenbelt and a large number of area businesses teamed up to help finance the Greenbelt Soccer Association's annual trip to Ocean City. Playing against various all-star teams, the 8 and under team had a rough time of it. The competition was tough and very talented but Greenbelt hung on each game. It was particularly gratifying to hear the large crowd from home cheering them on.

Some interesting notes: Overheard on the bus going to Ocean City, "They're only five buzzards left in the world and two of them are in Baltimore." — Mike

The fair will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, April 7 and 8, 8 a.m. - 8 p.m. at the New Carrollton Branch Library, 7414 Riverdale Road.

One of the goals of the county library has been to sponsor an event during National Library Week that would orient the county's growing business community to the many business-targeted resources and services available at the public library.

Attending the briefing session were state and county officials representing the Beltsville area, representatives of Senators Barbara Mikulski and Paul Sarbanes and County Executive Parris Glendening. History

In recent years disposal of surplus lands has been accomplished under President Ronald Reagan's Executive Order 1238, dated February 25, 1982. This set up the Federal Property Review Board to screen available land for sale. The executive action was taken in the hope that sale proceeds would help reduce the federal deficit. But the effort ran into opposition from Congress and environmental groups. At the time Maryland Senator Paul Sarbanes objected to 'this going-out-of-business-sale approach' to federal lands. Sarbanes felt it was 'ill-advised' to sell off long-term assets by the federal government to create short-term revenues against the national debt.

When the Federal Property Review Board was abolished, any disagreements on the disposition of federal lands or conflicts between GSA and other federal agencies were turned over to the Office of Management and Budget for its resolution.

"The purpose of this special program is to explain the different traditions of both Christians and Jews."

The program will include: Trimming the Easter Tree, "Easter Egg Coloring," "Name the Bunny" contest, Traditional story telling, Visit by the Easter Rabbit.

New Electronic Fareboxes Appear in Area Buses

Beginning the weekend of March 28 the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA) will install electronic registering fareboxes in Metrobuses assigned to the Montgomery Metrobus Division.

Passengers who ride the C2 and F6 bus routes will begin using the new equipment aboard the bus on Monday, March 20.

The new fareboxes accept tickets, tokens and cash, and emit an electronic tone that signals passengers that the proper fare has been paid. Unlike older fareboxes, registering fareboxes have separate slots for coins and bills. Passengers must unfold dollar bills to pay their fare. Receipts are secure from loss aboard the bus and in the Authority's revenue collection facilities. The fareboxes also provide audit information to the Authority.

HOTLINE SERVICES OPEN TO HOMELESS PERSONS

The Prince Georges County Hotline and the Suicide Prevention Center are now offering hotline services to homeless persons. Individuals and families can call 731-0999 24 hours a day, seven days a week if they are in need of emergency housing.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

About 12:40 a.m., March 26 Greenbelt officers pursued a 1986 Cadillac Sedan de Ville stolen moments earlier from the Capitol Cadillac lot on Capitol Drive at high speeds along Greenbelt Rd. and Kenilworth Ave. to the town of Edmonston where the Cadillac struck a parked car in the 200 block of Emerson St. The operator jumped out and escaped on foot. He was described as black, 19 to 23 years, 5'7", 160 lbs., wearing a ¾ length gray coat, blue jeans and brown shoes.

Cpl. William D. Allwang located a stolen auto about 6 p.m. March 21 in the lot at the "Buddy" Attick Lake Park on Crescent Rd. The man in the driver's seat jumped out when he saw the officer and fled on foot. Cpl. Allwang arrested two other persons who were in the car. After a search for the man who had fled, K-9 Cpl. James D. Love arrested him at Roosevelt Center Mall on Centerway. The suspect, an 18-year-old non-resident, was charged with theft and released in the custody of an official at the Liberian Embassy where the suspect's mother is employed. The other two persons were released without charges.

About 10:20 p.m., March 21 the occupants of a second floor apartment in the 6000 block of Breezewood Drive saw a man at the patio door of their balcony, apparently intent on burglary. He was black, wearing blue jeans and a baseball cap. A second suspect on the ground yelled to him that the occupants were in the apartment. Both suspects then fled on foot.

On March 26 $2000 worth of black steel pipe was reported stolen from a construction site in the 7700 block of Greenbelt Road.

Officer David Lucia arrested a 36-year-old Greenbelt man about 10 p.m., March 21 at the Shell Food Mart in the 8000 block of Breezewood Drive. The man had a hypodermic syringe on his person and he was wanted by Montgomery County police on an open arrest warrant. He was held on $500 bond.

A home in the 10 Court of Laurel Hill Rd. was broken into on March 22 by cutting the screen on a rear window. Money was stolen.

Three packages being delivered by a United Parcel Service delivery man at Beltway Plaza about 1:50 a.m., March 23 were stolen from a sidewalk where they had been stacked by two men who threw the packages into a car and fled. They were black, in their 30's, operating a late 70's or early 80's model Chevy, royal blue, with D.C. tags.

A second floor apartment in the 6100 block of Breezewood Drive was broken into during the day on March 25. Miscellaneous property was stolen.

A charcoal gray 1986 Jeep Cherokee, Md. 099932M was stolen about 6:30 p.m. March 25 from the parking lot at Beltway Plaza Mall. Two handguns, a .38 cal. and a .25 cal. automatic had

A patron at Jasper's restaurant in Greenway Center reported her purse stolen about 10:30 p.m., March 21 while she was in the restaurant.

A 1985 John Deere backhoe/loader was stolen on March 23 from a construction area in the 7700 block of Greenbelt Rd. Officers found the tractor in the middle of Mandan Rd. in the 7600 block. Damage was estimated at about $50.

About 10 a.m., March 23 a VCR valued at $850 was reported stolen from an office suite in the 7400 block of Greenway Center Drive.

Sgt. Tom Miskell recovered a 1982 Audi 4000S about 9:40 a.m., March 20 in the 9100 block of Edmonston Ct. The car had been reported stolen in Baltimore County in August 1986.

A maroon 1986 Dodge Lancer Le Turbo, D.C. 141-523 was stolen March 25 from the 6400 block of Ivy Lane.

A 1987 Oldsmobile Cierra brougham, stolen from the 5900 block of Cherrywood Terrace was recovered March 20 on 16th Street in Silver Spring by Montgomery County police.

Thefts from and vandalism to autos were reported at the following locations: 37 Court of Ridge Rd.; 100 block of Ridge Rd.; 7800 block of Mandan Rd.; 100 block of Westway; 6100 block of Springhill Terrace; and the parking lot at Beltway Plaza Mall.
